Informed Consent for Chiropractic Treatment

To the Patient: Please read this entire document prior to signing. It is important you understand the information enclosed. Please ask questions before you sign if there is anything unclear.

Chiropractic is a form of health care used to manage a wide variety of conditions including acute injury, chronic pain and disability. As part of the analysis, examination and treatment, you are consenting to the following procedures: vital signs, orthopedic testing, range of motion, basic neurologic testing, muscle strength, postural analysis, functional movement evaluation, spinal manipulation, manual therapy, dry needling, therapeutic exercises, massage, and therapeutic modalities. The goal of such treatment is to accelerate recovery of ailment(s) and aid in achieving maximal functional capacity. All procedures will be thoroughly explained to you before you are asked to perform them.

The Doctor will make every reasonable effort during the examination to screen for contraindications to care; however if you have a condition that would otherwise not come to the Doctor's attention it is your responsibility to inform the Doctor. It is your right to decline any part of your treatment at any time.

Response to chiropractic intervention varies from person to person; hence, it is not possible to accurately predict your response to treatment. As with any healthcare procedure, there are certain complications which may arise during chiropractic manipulation and therapy. These complications include but are not limited to: stiffness, soreness, fractures, disc injuries, dislocations, muscle strain, cervical myelopathy, costovertebral strains and separations, and burns. Some types of manipulation of the neck have been associated with injuries to the arteries in the neck leading to or contributing to serious complications including stroke.

Fractures are rare occurrences and generally result from some underlying weakness of the bone which we check for during the taking of your history and during examination. Stroke and /or arterial dissection caused by chiropractic manipulation of the neck has been the subject of ongoing medical research and debate. The most current research on the topic is inconclusive as to a specific incident of this complication occurring. If there is a causal relationship at all it is extremely rare and remote. Unfortunately, there is no recognized screening procedure to identify patients with neck pain who are at risk of arterial stroke.

Other treatment options for your condition may include: • Self-administered, over-the-counter analgesics and rest • Medical care and prescription drugs such as anti-inflammatory, muscle relaxants and pain-killers • Hospitalization • Surgery. If you chose to use one of the above noted "other treatment" options you should be aware that there are risks and benefits of such options and you may wish to discuss these with your primary medical physician. Remaining untreated also has risks and benefits specific to the condition you are experiencing. Generally, leaving an injury untreated may allow the formation of adhesions and reduce mobility which may set up a pain reaction further reducing mobility. Over time this process may complicate treatment making it more difficult and less effective the longer it is postponed.

I have read, or have had read to me, the above explanation of chiropractic manipulation and related treatment(s). I understand I will have opportunities to discuss the information contained herein, with any questions I have being answered to my satisfaction, prior to beginning treatment. I understand I have the right to deny any part of treatment recommended to me at any time. By signing below I state that I have weighed the risks involved as explained herein, and have decided to undergo treatment. Having been informed of the risks, I hereby give my consent to treatment or treatment of my minor dependent.

DRY NEEDLING CONSENT AND INFORMATION FORM

To the patient: Please read this entire document prior to signing. It is important you understand the information enclosed. You have the right to withdraw consent for this procedure at any time.

Dry Needling involves inserting a tiny monofilament needle in a muscle or muscles in order to release shortened bands of muscles and decrease trigger point activity. This can help resolve pain and muscle tension, and will promote healing. This is not traditional Chinese Acupuncture, but is instead a medical treatment that relies on a medical diagnosis to be effective. Dry Needling is a valuable and effective treatment for musculoskeletal pain. Like any treatment, there are possible complications. While complications are rare in occurrence, they are real and must be considered prior to giving consent for treatment.

Risks: The most serious risk with Dry Needling is accidental puncture of a lung (pneumothorax). If this were to occur, it may likely require a chest x-ray and no further treatment. The symptoms of shortness of breath may last for several days to weeks. A more severe puncture can require hospitalization and re-inflation of the lung. This is a rare complication, and in skilled hands it should not be a major concern. Other risks include injury to a blood vessel causing a bruise, infection, and/or nerve injury. Bruising is a common occurrence and should not be a concern.

Patient's Consent: I understand that no guarantee or assurance has been made as to the results of this procedure and that it may not cure my condition. My therapist has also discussed with me the probability of success of this procedure, as well as the probability of serious side effects. Multiple treatment sessions may be required/needed, thus this consent will cover this treatment as well as consecutive treatments by this facility. I have read and fully understand this consent form and understand that I should not sign this form until all items, including my questions, have been explained or answered to my satisfaction. With my signature, I hereby consent to the performance of this procedure. I also consent to any measures necessary to correct complications which may result.
